The program for next Tuesday will be in the nature of a special Mothers' Day program and while we do not have the details of what it will consist, we are told that it will be mighty interesting and appropriate for the occasion.

Members are urged to bring their wives, mothers or the wives of former Kiwanians who have passed on so that we can show our appreciation to them and so they will not think that we have forgotten them.

The program last Tuesday was a very interesting one and we thank Carl Heilbron for his inspiring talk regarding our San Diego and especially the convention possibilities.

A pamphlet was distributed at each plate which certainly gives interesting and valuable information about how a convention dollar is spent.

There are cited various authorities and in the main, every one brought home the fact that every merchant benefits by having conventions, so you are urged to do your share in bringing conventions to San Diego where everything can and is being done for the pleasure of visitors.

The interclub meeting at Ocean Beach was a very pleasant success with some twenty or more members of this club in attendance.

Several members were thus able to make up their attendance for the week and all are asked to make this a regular habit, namely that of making up attendance at some nearby club.

The list of such clubs is now a regular feature of this publication and it would be a nice way to get better acquainted with members of nearby clubs.

Delegates to the International Convention to be held at Boston, June 18-22 were elected as follows: Delegates, Lowe and Frazee; Alternates, Morse and Russell.

The convention program is a very outstanding one, having speakers of National and International reputation.

The New England states, especially in the summer time or late spring lend themselves to a most enchanting vacation and anyone finding the time to make this trip will be well repaid for his efforts.

One of the special features of the convention talks will be on Labor Relations and William Green, president of the A. F. of L. will talk on this subject from the standpoint of the employee; Cyrus S. Ching, director, Industrial and Public Relations of the U. S. Rubber Co., "From the Standpoint of Industry," while Sherman Rogers, associate editor of Outlook and other magazines will talk from the "Standpoint of the Public."

This is just one of the many features of the convention, all of which will prove valuable to the listener.

So much controversy has been had regarding the proper flag salute, that the following excerpt from the monthly bulletin of Kiwanis International should prove enlightening:

THE PROPER SALUTE TO THE FLAG

In these critical times civilians should ascertain the correct flag salute. It is seldom that a civilian gives a salute with his hand. On the street when the flag is passing he should stop, face the flag and hold his hat in the right hand over the heart until the flag is a few paces past. At club meetings, a member stands at erect attention, his hands at his sides.

PREVIEW OF MAY ISSUE OF THE KIWANIS MAGAZINE

When George the Sixth steps off the boat at Quebec and touches Canadian soil he becomes "King of Canada" and his adviser is not Neville Chamberlain but Mackenzie King. This is one of the very interesting and startling statements included in a most enlightening article telling of the forthcoming visit to the North American continent of King George and Queen Elizabeth. The article is by Arthur Ford, former International Trustee and editor of the London, Ontario, Free Press.

The Kiwanis Club of Indianapolis has a distinguished member in the person of American League Umpire Harry Geisel. A big league umpire is a pretty important person and leads the sort of life that most of us want to know more about. Jack Harding, past president of the Indianapolis club, publicity chairman for the Indianapolis convention in 1937, writes about what Harry says, does and thinks on the baseball diamond. "Umps are Trumps" is the title and it's one of the most interesting baseball stories we ever read.

"Bad Boys and Good Neighbors" is the title of a very informative article by Karl Detzer. It concerns a juvenile court judge in Michigan. Lots of human interest and particularly appealing to clubs that have done or are doing juvenile court work.

"The Speaker Speaks" by Frank Farrington will arouse some memories, even some that we maybe would like to hold back. It's an unusual viewpoint the author has taken.

As we get closer to the Boston convention the articles concerning that section become more numerous. We think the collection this month is a splendid one. There is a beautifully written article on Cape Cod, an article on the Maritime Provinces of Canada where Maritime and New England history is intertwined, a dissertation on the glories of sea food menus available in Boston and a story telling of the development in Boston of what are now modern luxury hotels. There's also a preview of two more convention speakers.

The usual features will be found; Secretary Parker's page; Roe Fulkerson's Personal page and Editorials; George Kimball's Questions and Answers and the Club and District Activities sections.
