Resolutions passed by the International Council

Resolution No. 2

WHEREAS, The Security Organization Charter for the maintenance of international peace and security, developed and propounded by representatives of the fifty United Nations participating at San Francisco in the conference just concluded, is now to be submitted to the representative governments of the participating nations for ratification; and

WHEREAS, The achievement of permanent peace and world-wide security as contemplated by the charter is dependent upon a widespread understanding of its provisions and upon active and sympathetic participation in its proposals by the peoples affected.

BE IT RESOLVED, That Kiwanis International give its support to the principles outlined in the Charter by preparing for early distribution a United Nations Charter Day Program designed to present to our member clubs and through them to their communities the purport of the charter and its principal provisions, the opportunity for study and discussion, and the necessity of education and organization on a world-wide scale for peace and security.

Resolution No. 3

BE IT RESOLVED, That our Kiwanis clubs be urged to take the initiative in their communities in developing a strong unified sentiment for the creation of "living memorials" to their sons and daughters who have served in the armed forces of our countries, memorials to valor and heroism that will serve continuously to enlarge and enrich the human and spiritual values of life rather than be merely cold symbolic tributes.

Resolution No. 4

WHEREAS, The confidence and cooperation existing between the United States and Canada have contributed materially to their security and welfare during the stress and peril of war; and

WHEREAS, Kiwanis International has for many years been identified with the development and maintenance of that close relationship,

BE IT RESOLVED, That we continue to take an active interest

Resolution No. 5

BE IT RESOLVED, That we reaffirm the pledges made to our fellow Kiwanians in military service: to give undying devotion to the ideals for which they are fighting, to use aright the freedoms they are protecting, and to carry on the Kiwanis program of human and spiritual emphasis, fellowship and community service.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That we assure our military service members of our pride in them and our thankfulness for their contributions to the progress that has been made toward the final and complete victory that will permit a resumption of our peaceful life and pursuits; and further assure them that we await their safe return with eager anticipation, and promise them our cordial cooperation and friendly assistance in taking up their former business or professional activities or engaging in new ones, and in their return to the fellowship and activities of Kiwanis.

Colleen Moore's Doll House on exhibit

Under the sponsorship of the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Doll House display representing the hobby of Colleen Moore is now on display at the J. W. Townsend Motor Co., State and B Streets.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets are to be used for the Boys' Club of San Diego.

Well worth your time and effort, this display is one of exquisite beauty and daintiness in the shape of a castle with spires reaching fourteen feet in height.

Everything therein is in miniature and makes a very interesting display. The Doll House will be on exhibit for three weeks commencing August 7th.

Admission is 50 cents for adults and 20 cents for children and the show room is open daily from 2 until 10 P.M.

Annual "Outing" to be on August 28

Vice-President Andy Borthwick, chairman of the Program Committee, announces that Don Jacks and his Orchestra, will be one of our programs in the near future and on the 28th of August, we are to have another one of those delightful out-door meetings at the Rowing Club.

The meeting will be in charge of Ray Murray of the Sports Committee and judging from the last similar meeting, we can look forward to a grand time with a bracing bit of "sea-tang" as a chaser.

Next week we are to have as our guest feature a "prestidigitator". That's a good word and fully explains just what we can expect from Lieutenant Gene Anderson.

Keith Atherton will be program chairman.

"Peace on Earth, Good will toward Men"

Commander "Buzz" Miller gave us one of the clearest word pictures of action in the Pacific that we have had.

His personalized talk was entirely devoid of "self" and he made one feel that he was just telling a story, a vivid thriller of some unreal fantastic episode in the life of a hero instead of really telling of his own exploits.

Thrilling as it may have seemed to us, his description of the bombing missions, his clear picture of the thrills experienced by those who were on these death defying missions, gave us just a little insight into what "goes on over there" all the time and with the very fragmentary news items, telling of some plane or two doing "their stuff," one would hardly believe there was much being accomplished until, well, his story tells us much that we have not yet heard about our men and their work to compel the decent world living of our enemies.

We are grateful to "Buzz" Miller and his "gang" for their work at the front.
