

Youth Service Committee enlists aid.

Members asked for man- power assistance

Dick Barbour, vice-chairman of the Youth Service Committee gave a resume of the proposal which the Board of Directors adopted for the present years additional activities in Welfare work.

These included the sponsoring of a paid worker for Camp Fire Girls for the year, assistance in the operation of Camp Fire girls camp as well as in the organizing of Boy Scout troops under our sponsorship.

More will be published about these various activities from time to time but needless to say, our work in these all important fields of activity will do an immense amount of good and it is hoped that all members will take more or less a part in the working out of plans proposed by the Youth Service Committee and backed by the Board.

We can certainly get more active in our mainstay in Kiwanis work but each one must take it upon himself to put in a portion of time towards this work.

Pins for perfect attendance ready for distribution.

Perfect attendance pins were not handed out last Tuesday on account of lack of time but they will be ready at the earliest opportunity, so be prepared to exchange yours for a higher number.

Col. Evans F. Carlson gives much "food for thought"

The talk given Tuesday by Colonel Evans F. Carlson was by far the most outstanding one we have had in our club.

Col. Carlson, with experience of many years in China and other posts of duty gave us a most scholarly talk not only about what has been in the past but in what we are to expect for the future in the handling of matters which we are fighting for.

The Colonel is a much decorated man, having a list of citations and badges that would fill quite a space.

His talk was not superficial but was of a deep nature, one which gave the desire to hear more and more and our only regret was that his time was too short although it lasted somewhat longer than our usual one-thirty closing time.

With men like this at the heads of our various military organizations, we know that success is evident and we can congratulate ourselves on our good fortune.

Thank you Colonel Carlson, for your valuable talk.

OCEAN BEACH

Speaking from 17 years of experience in the Philippines helping in Uncle Sam's program of preparing the Filipinos for self-government, Judge Jesse George of San Diego scored the critics of U.S. policy in carrying on the Spanish-American war and in freeing the Philippines from Spanish mis-rule. He referred particularly to the charge made by James Truslow Adams in his four-volume history, the "March of Democracy," that Uncle Sam was imbued by a spirit of imperialism and was seeking to exploit Cuba and the Philippines.

"The author of those volumes gives a distorted idea of the Spanish-American War," he said. "A worse diluted history, I can hardly imagine. Adams' charges have been amply disproved by reliable historians."

The speaker also scored the lack of teaching of American history in the public schools and colleges of this country.

Judge George said he and President Osmena of the Philippine Islands are good friends and that Osmena has given assurance that he trusts the Americans to do the right thing by the Filipinos. While in the Philippines, where he first served a period of enlistment with the American Army, George was under General MacArthur, the father of the present commander of the U. S. armies in the Islands.

Guests at the meeting included: James McKinney of the San Diego club; Dr. Joseph McSparren, guest of Dr. John Wilhoit; George J. Cinq-Mars, guest of Dan Smith; and Bert Skinner and Larry Dickey, Boy Scout guests of Martin Murphy.

Mr. Murphy will be program chairman next week and will put on a Boy Scout program with Harvey Atherton as speaker and numerous Boy Scouts as special guests.
