Memorial Day 1945

Memorial Day will have a special significance to us this year for it calls upon us to recognize the sacrifices made on the fields of battle in the present war, and a success gained through such sacrifices.

The heroic stands made by men of our armed forces testifies to their belief in their country and we should and must make ourselves a part of their sacrifice in our continuance of proof of our citizenship and our support of their efforts in every way.

The battles bring home to us a keener sense of responsibility and a larger understanding of what it means to be a citizen of a country that has liberty for its watchword and we on the home front must ever hold ourselves in readiness to do those things which will change chaos to peace, a peace that spells right and justice to the world its peoples.

Our country needs the calm, quiet prayer of inspiration and solace on this day of memoration.

THE OBJECTS OF KIWANIS

- To give primacy to the human and spiritual, rather than to the material values of life.
- To encourage the daily living of the Golden Rule in all human relationships.
- To promote the adoption and the application of higher social, business and professional standards.
- To develop by precept and example, a more intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship.
- To provide, through Kiwanis clubs, a practical means to form enduring friendships, to render altruistic service and to build better communities.
- To co-operate in creating and maintaining that sound public opinion and high idealism which make possible the increase of righteousness, justice, patriotism and good will.

New Members Day

Next Tuesday will be New Members Day, a semi-annual day in which we will get re-acquainted with all new members joining the club since the first of the year.

Here is a list of the names of those admitted during the past few months:

James C. Brenan,
Harold G. Clapper,
Frank O. Culy,
Lyman L. Dixon,
Allen A. Dreyfus,
Donald C. Kearns,
Rev. Joe. Luther,
William E. Males,
R. Douglas Maw,
John J. McAleer,
Russell W. Rink,
Robert H. Ripley,
Maj. Walter E. Yeacker.

These men, some of whom have been members of Kiwanis Clubs elsewhere, will be re-introduced and are urged to be present so that we will all get to know them better.

The Kiwanis Education Committee is in charge of the program.

Our thoughts of love and sympathy go out to our good member Tom Russell on the passing of his brother, Henry Lee Russell, of Lakeside, California.

OCEAN BEACH

Both Dr. Alfred Sand and L. L. Bloomenshine, the speakers Tuesday evening at the Kiwanis club meeting, agreed that headway toward international peace has been made by the World Conference at San Francisco and at the other international meetings and conferences that preceded the one now in session in the city at the Golden Gate.

Dr. Sand reviewed the conference that led up to the one at San Francisco and declared his belief that it might be well to "play ball" with Russia. As a matter of fact, he said, Russia can't afford another war in the next 50 years and is likely more interested in the success of the World Conference now in session than any other nation.

Mr. Bloomenshine, who is principal of Point Loma high school, reviewed the achievements at the San Francisco Conference to date and said in conclusion that he was prone to agree with Comdr. Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor, who is one of the outstanding members of the U. S. delegation, that the present World Conference is a "beachhead on the way to peace and that out of the conference peace eventually will emerge."

"Of interest is the fact that the framework of the Dumbarton Oaks proposals thus far have been maintained by and large at San Francisco and with few important changes," the speaker declared.

Next week's meeting will be in charge of the committee that has the "support for churches" project of the Kiwanis Club.
